About the POLKA CLUB OF IOWA Inc.

The POLKA CLUB OF IOWA was formed 35 years ago as an educational and social organization for the preservation and advancement of old-time music, when accordionist Duane Pichelman organized a group of dancers who shared his love of Austrian/German-style happy music. The first meeting was held in the Duane Pichelman home near Ankeny, Iowa, on April 18, 1975. The Polka Club of Iowa has grown, and now consists of three chapters. The goal of the Polka Club of Iowa is to encourage and pursue the study of old-time music, including polka and related traditional music.

When appearing as a group, members are encouraged to wear the suggested outfits of black and white; the club's official colors. Shirts should include an appropriate Polka Club of Iowa inscription with the chapter name listed. Members may include any personal monograms they want.

State meetings for all members along with an afternoon open-to-the-public dance are held three times a year at various locations around the state. These events help both new and long-time members get to know one another better.

If you like dancing, watching others dance, or even just listening to the sounds of old-time traditional dance music, you owe it to yourself to become a member of the Polka Club of Iowa. Current members are glad to teach dance steps; and dancers of all skills are invited to attend dances located at ballrooms across the state of Iowa.

Let's Dance!
